

12.1_D

Sentence	Purpose	Quote or paraphrase?	Reporting verbs
Johnson ¹ lists four key AI areas which had to be addressed to deliver this level of performance: person detection, object recognition, activity analysis and sensor fusion.
However, as Jones ² suggests, this level of surveillance also has 'the potential to control our lives in ways which are intrusive'.
A study by Vale and Arland ¹ showed that, with native speakers, the accuracy of speech recognition can be as high as 94%.
Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAVs), often called drones, have existed since 1935, but until relatively recently they have all been controlled remotely by a human pilot (Klinginger ¹).
These UAVs can take off, fly to a specific location and land, all without human intervention (Maertin ²).
There is some evidence that these have already been used in combat settings, 'posing unprecedented ethical dilemmas' (Schwabbe ³) ...
For example, Google began their project in 2009 (Davies ⁴) and their technology is still developing.			